

Designer Rocio Romero and her husband, Cale Bradford, aren't the only ones who lounge around their kitchen and dining room. Once a month, a hundred architecture enthusiasts flock to Missouri to "test drive," as Romero describes, the LV house, the first in her series of prefabricated homes. "My company is only as good as my product," she says. "I use myself as a guinea pig."

048

Project: LV
 Architect: Rocio Romero,
rocioromero.com
 Location: Perryville, Missouri
 Issue: November 2006

049

Project: Boardman Residence
 Architect: John Nickols, renovation by Abby Suckle Architects, abbyssuckle.com
 Location: Carlisle, Massachusetts
 Issue: June 2006